

Fidgety Fairy Tales

The Mental Health Musical

"My child who has ADHD liked seeing Little Hood save the day."

Now available for your school!

Have you been searching for a creative way to promote positive images of children with mental health disorders at your school?

Well, look no further! Fidgety Fairy Tales combines familiar fairy tales, compelling new music by award-winning composer Marya Hart, and a thrilling cast of young actors to raise awareness about anxiety, depression, and AD/HD.

Enjoyed by audiences of all ages!

"It was funny, educational, sad – everything to keep me paying attention."

Touring Performances

Bring Open•Up Theatre's original production to your students. A post-show discussion and free resource bookmarks help open up dialogue about mental health at your school! Running time: 50 minutes

$475 for one performance; $775 for two performances
Additional travel charges may apply to locations outside of the Twin Cities

School Productions

Scripts and piano scores are available for those who wish to stage their own production of Fidgety Fairy Tales.
Cast size: minimum 6, maximum 36

$5 per script, $40 royalty fee per performance

Artist Residencies

Writer/director Matt Jenson and composer/music director Marya Hart are available to work with your students to stage part or all of Fidgety Fairy Tales. Residencies can be tailored to fit your needs and budget. Contact Matt Jenson at mjenson@macmh.org or 651-268-1244.

Don't forget –

May is Mental Health Month

World Mental Health Day is in October

For further information about Fidgety Fairy Tales, contact MACMH's Community Arts Liaison Matt Jenson at mjenson@macmh.org or 651-268-1244

Minnesota Association for Children's Mental Health
165 Western Ave, Suite 2 • St. Paul, MN 55102 • 651-644-7333 • www.macmh.org